Buenos Aires has a mild and warm climate throughout the year. The winter months are June to August, the summer months are December to February, the spring months are September to November, and the autumn months are March, April and May. For more information on temperatures in May click here.

5. Arrival at airport

Ministro Pistarini International Airport, also known as Ezeiza International Airport, is located 22 kilometres south-southwest of Buenos Aires city. It is the country's largest international airport in terms of number of passengers handled-85 per cent of international traffic-making it a hub for the international flights of Aerolíneas Argentinas and LATAM Argentina.

Road access is by the Riccheri Highway. Travel between the airport and anywhere in Buenos Aires city can be by taxi, or limousine ("remise" in Spanish). There are also airport shuttle buses operating a non-stop service between the airport and certain locations in central Buenos Aires.
